Return Engagement With Vols Slated After Cats Return Home

By MAXIE LANCASTER
Coach Adolph Rupp's Kentucky Wildcats will face their second strong opponent in two days when they encounter the highly touted Butler University Bulldogs tonight at Indianapolis.

The Kentucky team left Lexington Sunday on a tour of the famous basketball state of Indiana. They met Notre Dame last night at South Bend and invaded the Butler field-house tonight.

Little is known of the strength of the Bulldogs, except that they were defeated by Notre Dame early in the season by 35-27 count. They were defeated Saturday night by the University of Wisconsin, in a closely fought 28-24 battle. Despite these losses Butler has chalked up some wins over the outstanding teams in the Big Ten and is still highly regarded in Hoosier basketball circles.

The Wildcats came out of the tough Alabama game last Friday night in excellent condition and Coach Rupp expects to be able to throw his full strength against the Butler team. Ralph Carlisle, who was in a slump on the last trip taken by the Big Blue, apparently has regained his best form and should give the Bulldogs plenty of trouble.

The Kentucky team will return to Lexington Wednesday and after a two-day rest will journey to Knoxville for a return engagement with the Tennessee Volunteers. The Vols handed the Cats a scare, before they submitted to defeat in their first meeting this season and will be ready to get revenge for the defeat they suffered here in Lexington.

After the Tennessee game the Wildcats will play their last four games at home. Next Tuesday night they will be host to Xavier University for a return engagement. Friday and Saturday, Feb. 21 and 22, Creighton will invade the Wildcat lair and the following Monday Vanderbilt's Conquering Commodores will come here and attempt to defeat the Big Blue twice in one season.

The Vandy game will close the Kentucky schedule but the Wildcats will probably be invited to participate in the Southeastern Conference Tournament, to be staged between the eight outstanding teams of the league, the first of next month.

Rose Bampton Well Received By Audience at Henry Clay Auditorium

R. D. McINTYRE
Members of the Community Concert association of Central Kentucky were privileged to hear an unusual beautiful song recital presented by Rose Bampton, young American mezzo-soprano of the Metropolitan Opera association, last night in the auditorium of the Henry Clay High school.

Miss Bampton is an artist of whom all Americans may be justly proud. She has received all of her musical training in this country and has won an enviable place for herself in the fields of opera, oratorio, concert and radio.

Miss Bampton's voice is one of unusual range and timbre. She sings the deep contralto tones or the ringing top tones of the dramatic soprano with equal ease. Perfect diction, whether it be English, French, German or Italian, is a feature of Rose Bampton's singing. Her selection of songs and her impeccable interpretations are worthy of special notice. She is a singer who can be cited as a model for all that is good in tone production.

The program which Miss Bampton presented was varied in character with early English songs, German lieder, modern French and American songs predominating. Her interpretation of the classic lieder was an outstanding feature of the recital. She was forced to give many encores to satisfy the demand of an enthusiastic audience.

The fine work of Nils Nelson at the piano is worthy of note. Miss Bampton is indeed fortunate to have such an excellent accompanist.

Men's Glee Club Is Special Attraction of Regular Sunday Afternoon Musicales

SPECIAL NUMBERS ARE PRESENTED

Mary L. McKenna, Ruth Clifton, Mary Rudice, Quartet Take Part

By DAVE SALYERS

The University Men's Glee club, with Mary Louise McKenna, soprano, Ruth Clifton, contralto, Mary Rudice, harpist, Jess Mountjoy and Harlowe Dean, tenors, and a special quartet as feature numbers, presented its annual vespers concert in the first of the Sunday afternoon musicales of the semester, Sunday at 4 p. m., in Memorial hall.

The entire concert showed the result of careful planning of numbers, both in variety and training, and attained a finesse not present in some past performances of the club. The blending of the voices was unusually good, and the effects produced by each number excellent.

The feature numbers provided a delightful variety in the program. Miss McKenna's numbers were "The Spirit Flower," by Campbell-Tipton, and an encore "If All the World Were a Violin," dedicated to Prof. Carl Lampert. Miss Clifton gave two clever readings, "The Little Peach" and "I Ain't Going to Cry." Miss Rudice presented two numbers, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," and "In the Garden."

Mr. Mountjoy's numbers were "Smilin' Through" and "Little Mother of Mine," and Mr. Dean gave an exhortation "A Negro Sermon," and as an encore "Shortnin' Bread." The special quartet, composed of Harlowe Dean, Robert Dean, Jesse Mountjoy and Daves Thompson, accompanied by Miss Rudice, presented four numbers, "By the Waters of Minnetonka," "Mammy's Lullaby," and "Jada" and "Close Harmonies."

Among the Glee club's selections were the popular "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp" chorus from Victor Herbert's "Naughty Marietta," Cadman's "The Builder," "Dedication" by Franz; "Battle of Jericho," by Bartholemew; a folk song, "Hoodah Day"; and as a closing number the immortal Soldier's Chorus from "Faut." The group's opening number was the University's "Alma Mater."

Student Artists Entertain Faculty at Meeting Last Saturday

"The Faculty Club Frolics," with an all-star cast, was presented during the dinner hour. Frank Burger was master of ceremonies.

Variety was the keynote of the show, the individual acts ranging from a performance of magic by A. L. Henry to "Betty Boop" singing by Martha Records. Mary Lou Stark and Clay Lancaster executed a lately conceived tango. Jerry Rich, star of the Ohio Merry-Go-Round club, gave an eccentric legamania dance. Mary Louise McKenna, staff soloist of the University Radio studios, contributed to the occasion by singing several selections of the musical comedy type.

A highlight of the show was the acrobatic dance by ten-year-old Juanita Robertson, pupil of Juanita Crutcher, Lexington dancing instructor. Miss Crutcher demonstrated a new, original tap routine as a program feature. The Kentuckians furnished music for dancing following the floor show.

Going to town with Luckies
A LIGHT SMOKE
of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco

Over a period of years, certain basic advances have been made in the selection and treatment of cigarette tobaccos for Lucky Strike Cigarettes.

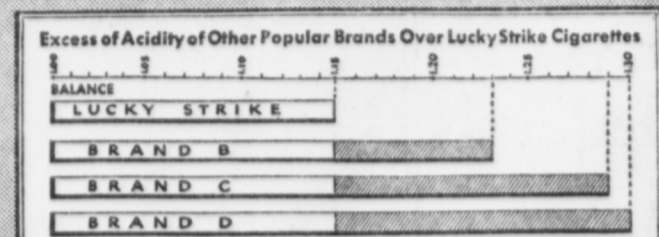

They include preliminary analyses of the tobacco selected; use of center leaves; the higher heat treatment of tobacco ("Toasting"); consideration of acid-alkaline balance, with consequent definite improvement in flavor; and controlled uniformity in the finished product.

All these combine to produce a superior cigarette—a modern cigarette, a cigarette made of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos—A Light Smoke.

Luckies are less acid

Recent chemical tests show that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

Another feeble attempt at column writing is about to be indulged in while "ye olde sportsperson editor," Joe Quinn, catches up on some of that sheep he lost last night while studying that ancient art of poker playing.

When this little bit of sports slush is put into your P. O. box the Kentucky Wildcats will have won or lost another basketball game. They are sojourning in the famous basketball state of Indiana where they played Notre Dame last night at South Bend, and sweep down on the Indianapolis tonight to encounter the highly rated Butler Bulldogs. There is nothing as bad as a stage prediction, so, as far as the outcome of the Kentucky-Notre Dame game is concerned, your scribe will forget about it.

However it might be safe to speak of the game tonight with Butler. Butler has one of the strongest teams in the middle west and the Cats will have to play better than par ball this evening in order to defeat the Bulldogs.

Everything seems to be "hunky-dory" down in Knoxville today. Major Bob Neyland is back in town. And there to seek victories with the Tennessee Volunteers for the next five years. The 43-year-old army engineer, bronzed by the sun which shines so brightly in the Panama canal zone, arrived in Knoxville this week after spending the past year on duty with the Army in Panama.

Neyland left the Tennessee institute last year following military orders and the famous Volunteer football team that Major had been building up since 1926, cracked completely, losing games to five of their strongest rivals. The alumni and fans of Knoxville sent out an SOS call for the return of their famous coach. And so he is back, and with a reported salary of $12,000 annually.

When questioned the other day about football coaching Neyland said, "I don't think I'll ever go back to the Army. It's football from now on."

Maybe Coach Adolph Rupp should schedule the New York University Violets on some court other than Madison Square Garden. The Violets lost two games last week, one to Georgetown University of Washington, D. C. and one to Temple University. They seem to be just another ball team on a neutral court.

Marion Miley, Lexington's gift to feminine golf, suited another loss Saturday afternoon in Miami. Patty Berg, Minneapolis school girl, handed Marion the defeat, the second time this season that the Minneapo. red-head has conquered the Lexingtonian.

The annual race for state basketball honors seems to be gaining momentum at the present time. Everyone seems to be looking forward to the annual state tournament, sponsored by the University. The race toward this goal opens tomorrow with the first of the various district tournaments. The following week will be featured with the regional tournaments and then the state tournament follows the next weekend. Several hundred state high school teams will enter the various district events, all with their eye on the state championship. At the end of two weeks tournament playing only sixteen of these teams will be left and they will swoop down on Alumni Gymnasium here in Lexington to crown the state champion.

SECOND ALABAMA TILT GOES TO CATS 40-34

For the second time in the same week Kentucky's Wildcats overpowered Alabama's smooth-working basketball squad when they scored a 40 to 34 win over the Tide men last Friday night in Alumni gym.

Outplayed and outscored in the early stages of the contest, the Wildcats, gaining new life with the insertion of J. Rice Walker into the lineup, ran roughshod in the final few minutes of the first half to gain a one-point edge at half time. During the 'Cat rally the ball changed hands so rapidly that the large crowd was left in excitement for several minutes.

After the second half game, under way the final issue was seldom in doubt. Kentucky immediately added several points before Alabama could register and opened up a gap which the Tide was never able to surmount.

The game started off slowly with both teams feeling their way cautiously. After a little more than a minute had been played McLeod counted with a long heave for 'Bama's first points but Lewis rebounded to tie up the game. From this point on, the Tide men, working the ball through Kentucky's defense, counted with several shots from inside the foul circle and on or two longer attempts, and with five minutes left in the first half were leading the 'Cats 14-9. Walker scored with a one-hander from the corner, Lewis repeated from the opposite side and with one minute left, Walker dribbled through for a crisp and Kentucky held a one-point advantage.

Soon after the second period began, Anderson made a free throw and Lewis and Ralph Carlisle chalked up four points between them before McLeod scored for the Tide. Carlisle, Donohue and Walker added more Kentucky points as the 'Cats pushed far out in front before ten minutes had passed.

After Walker had been banished on fouls, the Tide started another assault on the hoop which brought them within five points of the home team but Anderson's crisp along with Carlisle's one-hander and a field goal and free throw by Garland Lewis kept the Wildcats well out in front and they coasted in to a deserving victory.

Ralph Carlisle with 15 points and Garland Lewis with 11 were high men for Kentucky with J. Rice Walker in third place with 7 points. Nogi, Alabama back court man and Bouska, forward, combined to total 21 of Alabama's points, mainly through their distance shooting efforts.

Sport Sketches

By BOBBY EVANS

While in Knoxville Tuesday and Wednesday for the Kentucky-Tennessee boxing meet, we were able to get the latest reports on Herbie Fade, and to mold this in the form of a sport sketch.

Herbie was born at Paducah, Ky., in 1914....he is 6 feet tall and weighs 188 pounds, a junior in the College of Education, and a member of Vols Program Committee. Although every fraternity on the Tennessee campus has made a strong bid to stick a pledge pin in the Kentuckian's lapel, Herbie is still a member of the G. D. I. (great deal independent!). We have already read about this irreproachable character, but to make sure that these reports were true and not for the purpose of making a living martyr of the injured athlete, your correspondent made a thorough investigation of the question to find that the statements were decidedly true. Recently at one of their school dances, the student body paused, and with every head bowed, offered a prayer that Herbie would recover. Several high schools around Knoxville have played benefit basketball games for him in addition to the Kitten-Rat game played here last night.

Some of the reports about Fade's condition were discouraging; others were more optimistic. Only his closest friends are allowed to visit him. His speech has improved very little, and his memory is still vague. In fact, he recalls very little of his stay in Lexington, but remembers Dr. Chambers, Dr. Vance, and the nurses at the hospital. However, he is very jolly now, laughs with his friends, knows them all by name, reads, tunes the radio, walks about in his room, and the most encouraging part about his physical condition is that he has gained 20 pounds since he was returned to Knoxville. Although his physical condition has improved rapidly, the school physician said that it would be 12 or 18 months before they will even be able to say definitely whether or not he will fully recover.

It seemed that everyone in Knoxville had something to say about the interest and kindness that was given to Herbie by the people of Lexington. Without actual contact with the Tennessee students, one cannot visualize the close bond that has developed between the student bodies of the two great institutions.

PURSUIT

By mild ripe tobacco we mean just this—

FIRST—ripened in the sunshine... and picked leaf by leaf from the right part of the stalk when fully ripe.

THEN—each day's picking cured right by the farmer... at the right time and in the right way... no "splotching" or brittleness, but every leaf of good color and flavor.

FINALLY—bought in the open market... re-dried for storage... then packed in wooden hogsheads to age and mellow for two years or more until free from harshness and bitterness.

That's what we mean by mild, ripe tobacco. And that's the kind of tobacco we use to give Chesterfields their milder, better taste.
